

Hubbard

YOUR CHOICE, OUR COMMITMENT

Hubbard, a global reference in broiler breeding, part of the Aviagen Group and Erich Wesjohann Group (EWG), is looking for a Dual Purpose Poultry Business Development Manager to support the growth of its dual purpose poultry (dpp) breeds across Africa.

WE ARE LOOKING FOR our future DUAL PURPOSE POULTRY BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT MANAGER F/M

Missions

In a fast-growing African poultry market, you will drive the development and expansion of Hubbard Dual Purpose breeds through strategic projects, market activation, collaborations, and business development initiatives.

This role is focused on creating opportunities and supporting regional growth — not direct sales or account management.

Key Responsibilities

- Develop and expand the Hubbard DPP business across Africa
- Identify strategic market opportunities, distributors and support growth initiatives
- Build strong relationships with NGOs, cooperations, and poultry value chain stakeholders
- Support funding applications and development projects
- Gather market intelligence and provide feedback to sales, technical and R&D teams
- Coordinate actions with regional sales, planning, export, and marketing teams
- Promote Hubbard DPP breeders through marketing, communication and field activities
- Support optimal structures of Parent Stock operations

Profile

- Degree in Animal Production, Poultry Science, or related field
- Minimum 10 years of experience in poultry production, ideally broiler breeders or broiler production
- Strong analytical and interpersonal skills
- Autonomous, proactive, and comfortable working in multicultural environments
- Professional level and/or fluent in French and English
- Experience in Africa or tropical environments is a strong plus

Conditions

- Permanent position (Full time/CDI) – Executive status
- Based on experience and profile
- Attractive benefits package
- Frequent travel across Africa (around 50% of working time)
